Berchem, Moses & Devlin Attorneys Read to Bridgeport Classes

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. – Two attorneys from the law firm of Berchem, Moses & Devlin, P.C. took part October 23 in the Bridgeport public school system’s Read Aloud Day 2014. Rebecca Goldberg and Christopher J. Sugar, both associates with the firm’s Milford office, read to students in Hallen School.

Ms. Goldberg read “Lucky Ducklings” by Eva Moore to a kindergarten class at Hallen. “I loved sharing my love of reading with the children,” said Ms. Goldberg. “It was fun to watch them follow the story from beginning to end,” she added. “Reading skills are key to success in school, so it’s critical to instill an interest in books from a very young age.”

Mr. Sugar read to a sixth grade class at Hallen. The book he read was titled “Nurse, Soldier, Spy: The Story of Sarah Edmonds, a Civil War Hero” by Marissa Moss. “Part of the presentation was discussing with the students how reading has enhanced my life and career,” the attorney said. “This was my second year participating in Read Aloud Day, and I look forward to doing it again next year.”

Mr. Sugar and Ms. Goldberg were among 600 volunteers who read to every pre-kindergarten through sixth grade class in the Bridgeport public schools on Read Aloud Day. The event, which is organized by the School Volunteer Association of Bridgeport, draws volunteers from throughout the greater Bridgeport region. Many are busy professionals, like the two Berchem, Moses & Devlin attorneys, who find time to promote the importance of literacy skills.

Ms. Goldberg focuses her legal practice on labor and employment as well as litigation. Mr. Sugar practices in the areas of labor and employment, litigation and alternative dispute resolution.
